TIPS

- Exhibitors to provide their own containers. Where sizes are specified these must not be exceeded.
- Size matters. Avoid giant exhibits and select sizes which match each other.
- Keep it clean. Root vegetables should be washed with a soft cloth to remove earth but avoid damage. Pots and containers should be clean. Food exhibits should be covered. Jams, jellies and conserves should be sealed with either a twist top lid or waxed disc and clear film top. Chutneys should be at least 2 months old.
- Time it right. Fruit, vegetables and flowers should be fresh but not over ripe. Opening flowers are better than those past their best.
- Presentation wins prizes. Fruit, peas and beans should be picked with stalk intact. Tomatoes should have small eyes and firm fresh calyces, which should be uppermost when you present them. Tea light holders make excellent containers for smaller varieties. Don't polish fruit or vegetables, the natural bloom should be preserved.
